HI, I'M LEILANI!

As a homeschooling mom of 4 kids, former teacher, and author of Freedom To Learn, I have taken my passion for education to help encourage & support families on similar journeys. In 2016, my youngest daughter was diagnosed with Down Syndrome which put me on a mission to share these specific experiences with others. Today I share at conferences and through one-to-one coaching in addition to providing homeschool evaluations and practical resources on my YouTube channel "Living With Eve". With God leading the way, I'm so excited to be able to serve this community and support families so we can all grow together!

“TESTIMONIALS”

"Thank you for this video. I've already watched it twice."

"Thank you for this conversation. As a mom of a special needs kid and a pediatric nurse who homeschools, this is spot on!"

"I love all of what you have said on your video! And the encouragement! I have a child with Autism and it is challenging at times. But I am encouraged by your video!"

"This book fed my mind and my soul! Very educational and enlightening. The author is so encouraging. This should be a staple in every homeschooling household. Thank you Leilani!"

"Leilani's vast knowledge and experience is helpful to anyone in making the decision to homeschool. Her enthusiasm is infectious!"

She has personal knowledge of special needs and very bright children. Counting her an advocate you can gain strength and conviction in your decision."
